

Field Work

Gianluca Tadori

October 13, 2019

1 Morphology

1.1 Does this language have a gender distinction? How many genders are there?

This language has a clear gender distinction and there are only two gender, male and female.

Pronoun did not differentiate between the gender, but a verb. When we use a verb, the end tell us about the gender.

wo likhta hai wo likhti hai he writes she writes main parta hoon main parti hoon I read, as he I read, as she wo kaam kar rahi hai wo kaam kar raha hai
She is working He is working

1.2 How are plurals formed in this language? List all the forms. Can you find phonetic factors

ap ghatay hain second plural female (you sing) ap ghatay hain second plural male (you sing)

you sing, as female plural you sing, as male plural

1.3 Are there inflectional prefixes in this language? Are there circumfixes?